Professional Summary

Business Analyst with 5+ years in retail and e-commerce category planning and analytics (Flipkart) and B2B SaaS (Enverus). I own category performance end to end — building demand and sales forecasts, planning assortment and inventory, and tracking revenue by segment (business unit, category, SKU) against plan while mitigating variances. I develop 360-degree reporting on portfolio health, run monthly planning cadences to realign the sales plan, coordinate cross-functional inputs, and align plans with stakeholders to timeline. Skilled in assortment health, in-stock / inventory analytics, pricing and promotion levers, and forecasting; proficient in SQL, Tableau, Power BI, and Advanced Excel. My data-driven planning drove a 55% category revenue uplift during Big Billion Days. VIT engineering graduate — currently serving notice and available at short notice.
