Professional Summary

Commercially-driven business analyst with 5+ years turning e-commerce and market data into revenue and margin outcomes. At Flipkart I own category revenue analytics — GMV, conversion, pricing, assortment, promotions, and in-stock — and pull the levers that drove a 55% category revenue uplift during Big Billion Days. Earlier, in a Commercial Intelligence role, I published quantitative research and built unit-economics and profitability models plus competitive and pricing intelligence for leadership. A VIT engineering graduate fluent in SQL, Tableau/Power BI and Advanced Excel (with Looker and Python/R familiarity), I build real-time revenue dashboards and scorecards and translate complex data into commercially actionable narratives across Brand, Supply Chain, Product, and Marketing. Built for a P&L-owning, fast-paced pod: revenue growth, margin, consumer insight, and platform health.
